

STRUGGLING WITH THE Israel Topic AT HOME

Join Rabbi Ari & Gila Isenberg on Monday, September 23 for an opportunity to share and listen in a personal and safe environment regarding the challenging topic of Israel.

Questions to be discussed:

- Grappling with an adult child who has adopted views about Israel that make conversations difficult or frustrating?
- Worried if those adult children will still seek out Jewish communal life or might feel abandoned by Jewish communal institutions?
- Concerned about the upcoming High Holidays and how to gather around the table knowing that there's an impasse in your views and your child's views on Israel?*

Monday, September 23

8:30 p.m. Dessert will be served.

We understand that this is a broadly intriguing topic, but this specific gathering is designed just for those in our community whose child or children have adopted viewpoints on Israel that make conversation difficult at home and who are struggling to navigate the divide.*
